Authors, The Gibbs Sisters to appear at ALA 2023, with Debut Graphic Novel “Ghost Roast”

Chicago, Illinois - The American Library Association (ALA) Annual Conference and Exhibition welcomes YA authors, Shawnee Gibbs and Shawnelle Gibbs, as they unveil their anticipated debut YA graphic novel, “Ghost Roast,” a paranormal adventure.

Conference attendees can pre-order the upcoming HarperCollins / Versify book, “Ghost Roast,” in stores January 2024.

With their versatile storytelling skills and distinctive style, The Gibbs Sisters have garnered acclaim in comics and animation over the past few years. The pair have written for Dreamworks Animation’s “Not Quite Narwhal” (based on the New York Times Best-Selling book by Jessie Sima), Mattel Studio’s, “Barbie: It Takes Two” series, and were recently featured writers in Marvel’s acclaimed “Women of Marvel” anthology.

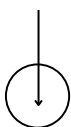

Known for their fresh twist on classic storytelling, with “Ghost Roast,” the sisters have partnered with artist Emily Cannon and colorist, Aishwarya Tandon, for a book that weaves history, adventure, and the supernatural into a stunning graphic novel debut.

Attendees of the conference will have the opportunity to visit booth 1544 and be among the first to view artwork from “Ghost Roast.” In addition to sharing sneak-peeks of the upcoming pages, the Gibbs sisters will meet attendees, sign limited edition bookplates, and offer exciting giveaways at their booth.

“We are thrilled to share Ghost Roast with the ALA community,” Shawnelle expressed. “ALA is the perfect place to engage with librarians, readers, and fellow creators who all have a shared love of storytelling,” added Shawnee.

About The Gibbs Sisters: Shawnee and Shawnelle Gibbs have both served as Staff Writers for Warner Brothers Animation, and have written for Dreamworks Animation, Cartoon Network, and Marvel Comics. For more information, visit: <http://www.gibbssisters.com>.
